PRESENT

whose right is it anyway? is a full-day youth human rights workshop.

Date: 31st October, Saturday

Time: 0900 hours

Venue: Singapore Management University, School of Business, Sem. Rm 2.5

All of us have something we care about - be it poverty, environment, health issues, financial protection or education. So what happens when you put supporters of these different causes into a same group to learn about rights, and to discuss to decide which rights should be more important to them?

Come experience a day of engagement and, even, controversy on this subject seldom publicly talked about!
